FOG SHUTS OUT THE VIEW.

Mr. M. F. Dwyer Increases His String with Nomad and Arnica.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
BRIGHTON BEACH RACE TRACK, July 20.—
There was a large crowd at Brighton Beach today, despite the fact that the weather was not at all pleasant and threatened rain.

A sea fog rolled in about 1 o'clock and for a time shut everything out of sight, while what little breeze there was came from the ocean and was shut off by the back of the stand.
This and the sea fog made things close, sticky and uncomfortable.

The programme was a very attractive one, and some interesting sport was expected.
The track was still heavy from Saturday's rain, though it had dried out a trifle in spots.
The first race brought together a very good lot of mares, including Tattler, Long Island, Fernwood, Macawley and others.

Tattler opened favorite, but no money went on him and his price receded. It was Long Island's turn, however, for he was heavily backed into first place, though his past performances did not warrant it.

Fernwood was a good third choice and a great lot was put on him, though his past performances did not warrant it.

Michael F. Dwyer today purchased the two-year-old Nomad and Arnica from L. J.
Dwyer for $11,000. Mr. Dwyer is to receive Nomad back again after he is done racing.

The second race furnished a lot of sport for the youngsters, with Tattler and Fernwood evenly matched. Circular and Thers L. were also even choices for place. The race was not a heavy betting one, but bets were made on nearly every horse.

The favorites were never in it. Circular won after a hot finish, with Thers L. irregular and Fernwood a poor third.

Contrary with Hamilton up was made a red hot favorite for the third race. Cynosure was also heavily backed, closing an equal choice with Centaur. Purple and Zed were the most hand of the others.

Cynosure won somewhat handily while Centaur and Zed in a ding dong finish from the head of the stretch were second and third, a short head apart.

Fourth race.—
Purse, $500; selling; one mile.

12. Tattler, 109, 109, 109, 1-2

Glenn jumped away around the turn, followed by Tattler, The Doctor, Long Island and Fernwood.

Fernwood moved up rapidly in the turn, and half way down the backstretch rushed to the front and showed the way to the win.
Tattler, The Doctor and Long Island were close together, with Long Island, Tattler and Count Dudley next.

Hamilton, Long Island up on the turn, and passing Fernwood at the head of the stretch, he came in a trifle ahead of the two lengths from Fernwood, who beat Tattler three lengths. Time—1:44.4.

Mutual: Tattler, $1.00; Long Island, $2.00; Fernwood, $3.00; Hamilton, $4.00; Count

11. Tattler, 109, 109, 109, 1-2
12. Fernwood, 112, Long Island, 110, 1-2

Cynosure and Tattler were the quickest to move, and were in the lead at the start.
Tattler, however, was not in the lead at the backstretch, with Centaur next, then Circular
and Zed.

Hamilton and Tattler treated the crowd to a rare finish for the place.
Hamilton landed in the place by a short head from Zed. Time—1:31.

Mutual: Tattler, $1.00; Hamilton, $2.00; Zed, $3.00; Circular, $4.00; Centaur, $5.00.

Tattler, however, was not in the lead at the backstretch, with Centaur next, then Circular
and Zed.

Hamilton and Tattler treated the crowd to
a rare finish for the place.
Hamilton landed in the place by a

FOURTH RACE.
Purse $500; selling; one mile.

Starters: W. H. Jones, Straight, Place.

Seymour dropped out altogether and Hambler took third place.

Hambler came through very fast on the far turn, and at the head of the stretch was on even terms with Dr. Hamble.

From there the wire Hambler had an easy time, winning under a gentle check by a strong Ir. Hamble, who beat St. John four lengths. Time—1:44.4.

Fifth race.—Five-eighths of a mile.—Eclipse won, Bakervian second and Kitty T. third.
Time—1:44.

TROTTER AT DETROIT.

Very Attractive Programme for the Summer Meeting There.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
HAMBURG PARK, DETROIT, Mich., July 20.—This is blue-ribbon day of the summer meeting here, and as the enter hold is free there is a deep line of people stretched for a quarter of a mile opposite the decorated grand stand, which is still filled.

About one hundred and fifty of the crack trotters, stretching from New England to the Pacific coast, are in the stables. The sport in harness will last five days, Saturday being reserved for moving.

Among the extra attractions Nelson is to trot against his record of 2:10.4, Lynn W.
and Layton, the fast team from New York, are to try and beat the mile record of 2:10.

Matthew Kelly, President of the Driving Club of New York, is here to drive Lynn W. and Layton, and assist starting Judge Campana to-day.

Three classes were drawn for the opening, but the mile dash for 2:20 trotters did not fill, leaving the 2:27 trotting and 2:34 pace to fill the sport.

2:27 CLASS—TROTTER.
First heat.—Khedive at the pole led to the home stretch, where Lescuyer passed him and finished a long way in front of the Wildbirds, Khedive third. Time—2:24.

finishing second and Little Albert third.

WON'T STOP THE BIG FIGHT.

Tardy Appeals to St. Paul's Mayor and Minnesota's Governor.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
ST. PAUL, July 20.—A committee representing various churches today waited upon Mayor Smith and Gov. Merriam to urge interference with the Hall-Fitzsimmons contest Wednesday night.

The Mayor reiterated his declaration of sacredness of the lives of the contestants, and of a high class of business men, who would doubtless be the most managed and least objectable of anything of the kind that ever took place in St. Paul; that he absolutely declined to interfere at this late stage, after the Minnesota Athletic Club had obligated itself to the fight.

Gov. Merriam told the committee that he was powerless in the matter, and should take the fight with the proper authorities, and should take the fight with the proper authorities.

The Chamber of Commerce this morning adopted resolutions protesting against the fight.

BROKER LEWIS FOUND GUILTY.

The Jury Takes Ten Minutes to Decide That He Robbed His Wife.

Recorder Smyth Remands Lewis
Till Friday for Sentence.

The trial of Samuel W. Lewis, the Wall street broker, who is accused of stealing $55,000 from his wife, Mrs. Alice G. Postwick Lewis, who was formerly the wife of a prominent resident of Bridgeport, Conn., was begun this morning before Recorder Smyth and a jury in Part II. of General Sessions.

When the case was adjourned Friday only ten jurors had been obtained. The two vacant seats were filled to-day soon after the opening of the court.

The prisoner, Lewis, sat between his counsels, Messrs. Grandel and McLaughlin. He is a medium-sized man, slender, with big, bulging eyes, which are partially concealed by eyeglasses. A closely-cropped brown Van Dyke beard adorns his face, and his general appearance would indicate that he was a clerkman.

Recorder District-Attorney Wickes opened the case for the people. He outlined the charge of grand larceny in the first degree, for which the defendant was indicted.

The specific accusation was that, July 18, 1890, the complainant, Mrs. Lewis, gave the defendant $55,000, with which to buy 100 shares of Pullman Palace car stock, that Lewis bought the stock, but appropriated the money.

Mrs. Lewis took the witness chair, very much excited. She is a middle-aged woman, about forty-two years old, with dark features and brown hair streaked with gray.

In answer to LAWYER Wickes's questions, she said:

"I met Mr. Lewis in the Summer of 1889, at Black Rock, Conn. He called on me some time later at my home, 61 East Fifth-street New York, and asked me to buy 100 shares of Pullman Palace car stock, which I did in December, 1887."

"The first the defendant said to me about this was in the Winter of 1890, when he told me that Pullman Palace car stock was going to have a big rise, and advised me to buy one hundred shares, which I could get by paying on instalments."

"This was prior to our marriage. Sept. 18, 1890, I said to him: 'I have no money, and I cannot get it until I have sold my stock.'"

"In the August following our marriage we lived at Orange, N. J., and one day I asked him about the Pullman stock. He said it was all right, and gave me a letter to a man named Johnston, a broker. I went to Mr.
Johnston about the Pullman stock, and finally to the Pullman Loan and Trust Company, but found it was a fraud."

"When I returned home and asked him how he had managed to get the money, he told me that he had sent me out of the house because he was afraid I would have discovered his fraud."

LAWYER Grandel cross-examined Mrs. Lewis, but failed to shake her testimony. She said that Johnston had given her a statement of the Pullman stock, but she never received it, and she never saw Johnston again.

There is a theory that the woman poisoned or chloroformed both herself and the children before she used the gun.

The following letter was found in the room
with the murdered and suicide:

DEAR TOM: I know you will be shocked when you get this and what I have done. This is not my first attempt. I took forty drops of laudanum at nine o'clock last night, and I am now dying. I am sorry I cannot do more for you, but I am so weak now. I am so weak now.
I am so weak now. I am so weak now.

If I could only have been at home last Sunday I should have been committed there, but she had gone to church. I could not bear to leave her behind. I wish you could go with me.
But for you I would gladly give up all and go home to heaven.

I sometimes feel that I am a terrible sinner, but now I feel that the good Lord is waiting the door open to welcome me and my little ones. You kept your marriage vows so much more perfect than I have, but you know that my heart is true now. I have been in a bad state of mind some time. I feel that I am a sinner and a mad man.

In concluding, Lewis said: "Mrs. Lochridge gave instructions as to how clothing and articles of jewelry should be distributed."

Mrs. Lochridge was a sister of Chas. J. J.
O'Dell, the well-known produce merchant of this city.

MAD MOTHER'S DEED.

Mrs. Lochridge Kills Her Three Little Ones and Herself.

Four Lives Blown Out with a Double-Barrelled Shotgun.

Terrible Spectacle for a Returning Husband and Father.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 20.—Mrs. Patti Lochridge, wife of Thomas Lochridge, shot her three children and herself about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at her home, three miles south of Spring Hill, Maury county.

Mrs. Lochridge was thirty years of age, her elder child four years old, the second three years old and the third four months old.
The murder was done with a double-barrelled shotgun.

Mr. Lochridge had gone to church, leaving his home in its usual state of quietness. His wife had been complaining for some time past, but on that particular afternoon she was no worse than during the past week.

About 3 o'clock Mr. Lochridge returned and found the house locked. He tried to get in by forcing his way through a window, and at the sight he saw the meaning of the sealed doors and windows burst upon him.

Upon a pallet, nicely arranged, lay his three children dead, and across the room, with her feet turned to the door, was his wife, her mother. The shotgun, the companion on many a joyous hunt, lay between them.

As near as can be learned from the surroundings Mrs. Lochridge had drawn up her children one by one, placed the gun against their hearts and fired.

Then she placed them side by side on a pallet which she had made for the purpose, and arranged their dresses neatly about them. Standing at their feet and probably gazing down upon them, the distracted mother played the muzzles of the gun at her own heart and sent her own soul to follow her children.

After killing the first two she must have reloaded the gun, and that she did so is evident from the fact that she was at least partially calm. How she pulled the trigger when the gun was against her own breast is a mystery, unless she did it with a stick held in her hand or with her foot.

There is a theory that the woman poisoned
or chloroformed both herself and the children
before she used the gun.

The following letter was found in the room
with the murdered and suicide:

Stories of Byrne-Ward Trouble Declared to Be Unfounded.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) EASTERN PARK, BROOKLYN, July 20.—To a sensational article which appeared in a morning newspaper concerning a row between President Byrne and Johnny Ward there seems to be no foundation.

Mr. Byrne said to an EVENING WORLD reporter to-day that he had read the article with considerable amusement and had a hearty laugh upon its issuance.

Johnny Ward has been seen prior to this afternoon's game and he said that he had heard nothing about the difficulty and was of the opinion that the article was written "on the strength of his being put out of the game at Pittsburg by the umpire for questioning a decision."
